

Young Gastech 5th April 2017

Gastech is the largest gas and LNG conference & exhibition in the world in 2017. The event attracts over 20,000 industry commercial and technical professionals and services as a showcase for over 600 exhibitors from the upstream, midstream and downstream sectors. Gastech's conference welcomes more than 200 leading speakers, representing the full commercial and technical value chains, with original and thought-provoking content highly regarded by attending delegates.

Young Gastech is a one-day event attached to Gastech designed specifically for final year students and recent graduates (1-3 years' experience) in the oil and gas industry. The programme provides an exciting opportunity for students wanting to pursue a career in the gas sector and for young professionals wanting to get closer to the natural gas and LNG industry. This is an unrivalled opportunity to network with peers who have already started gaining professional experience in the field, as well as high-level speakers and industry representatives.

Young Gastech is restricted to 150 delegates and all panels & presentations will be conducted in English.

Furthermore, successful applicants to attend the Young Gastech programme will receive a complimentary pass to the main conference and exhibition valid all week and worth $4500.
